

CLE: Navigating IP Issues Faced by Farm and Food Businesses

WEDNESDAY, MAY 16 | 8:45–11AM

PIERCE ATWOOD, 254 COMMERCIAL ST, PORTLAND, ME

LEGAL FOOD HUB CLE 2018 | REGISTRATION FREE

Attorneys who advise farm or food clients should be familiar with the rights and obligations associated with their client's intellectual property, including trademarks, copyrights, patents, and trade secrets. Attendees will learn from experts in the field of intellectual property law about the relevant considerations for protecting the intellectual property of farm and food businesses.

The course will feature two panel discussions: An Overview of Intellectual Property Law for Farm and Food Businesses and The Application of Trademark Law in the Farm and Food Context, followed by a roundtable discussion with all four panelists and a Q&A from attorney attendees.

Course faculty:

- Kelly A. Donahue, Esq., associate at Verrill Dana
- Jonathan M. Gelchinsky, Esq., partner at Pierce Atwood
- Andrew Kraus, Esq., attorney at Opticliff Law
- David B. McConnell, Esq., shareholder and director of Perkins Thompson
- Phelps Turner, Esq., staff attorney at Conservation Law Foundation

TO REGISTER, CONTACT PHELPS TURNER,
MAINE LEGAL FOOD HUB COORDINATOR AT PTURNER@CLF.ORG

LEGAL FOOD HUB
A project of Conservation Law Foundation

www.legalfoodhub.org